Our Story

RHI CREATIVES

Pretty's childhood greatly influenced her passion for the media industry. She grew up in a family where her family album was her most prized possession. She was born into a chief's family and the history of this chieftainship was passed down through these albums of pictures. This, to her, was a testament that memories and moments are worth their weight in gold. This is the drive to her passion for "capturing memories" as she puts it. She got to know quite a significant part of her family through captured memories. In speaking to her she always sees the gems in every moment and the importance of immortalizing these gems.

RHI Media was born from the passion of seeing memories preserved and cherished. Bringing together a vibrant and energetic team to embody this vision was of high importance to her, which is why she meticulously picked her initial team personally and based these selections on the pillars of ingenuity and passion to match her own.
